Fourth Sunday of Advent (A)

21st December 2025

Please note the nearest Fire Exit to you whilst you are in the Church

As we continue our Advent preparations, we gather today to prepare our hearts and minds for the coming of Christ at Christmas, giving thanks for all that we have received, and committing ourselves to pass on the Gospel message to all we meet.

First Reading Isaiah 7:10-14

The birth of Jesus is prophesied in the Old Testament: a child will be born to a young woman, and he will be called Emmanuel.

Responsorial Psalm

Let the Lord enter; he is the king of glory

Second Reading Romans 1:1-7

Paul tells us that Jesus is both a son of David and a Son of God. He is God incarnate, God made man.

The next newsletter will be produced for Sunday 4th January

JOSEPH: THE MODEL FOR FATHERS.

On this the last Sunday of Advent, St Joseph who had the worry of looking after Mary and finding a place for her to have her child is at the centre of the Gospel. After the birth, he was the model for Jesus to develop as a man dedicated to God. This is the role of fathers for their children and it is an immensely important role. Pope Francis reflects on this role:-

Joseph saw Jesus grow daily “in wisdom and in years and in divine and human favour” (Lk 2:52). As the Lord had done with Israel, so Joseph did with Jesus: he taught him to walk, taking him by the hand; he was for him like a father who raises an infant to his cheeks, bending down to him and feeding him (cf. Hos 11:3-4).

In Joseph, Jesus saw the tender love of God: “As a father has compassion for his children, so the Lord has compassion for those who fear him” (Ps 103:13).

In the synagogue, during the praying of the Psalms, Joseph would surely have heard again and again that the God of Israel is a God of tender love,<sup>[11]</sup> who is good to all, whose “compassion is over all that he has made” (Ps 145:9).

The history of salvation is worked out “in hope against hope” (Rom 4:18), through our weaknesses. All too often, we think that God works only through our better parts, yet most of his plans are realized in and despite our frailty. Thus Saint Paul could say: “To keep me from being too elated, a thorn was given me in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to torment me, to keep me from being too elated. Three times I appealed to the Lord about this, that it would leave me, but he said to me: ‘My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness’” (2 Cor 12:7-9).

Since this is part of the entire economy of salvation, we must learn to look upon our weaknesses with tender mercy.<sup>[12]</sup>

The evil one makes us see and condemn our frailty, whereas the Spirit brings it to light with tender love. Tenderness is the best way to touch the frailty within us. Pointing fingers and judging others are frequently signs of an inability to accept our own weaknesses, our own frailty. Only tender love “This my son was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found” (v. 24). will save us from the snares of the accuser (cf. Rev 12:10). That is why it is so important to encounter God’s mercy, especially in the Sacrament of Reconciliation, where we experience his truth and tenderness. Paradoxically, the evil one can also speak the truth to us, yet he does so only to condemn us. We know that God’s truth does not condemn, but instead welcomes, embraces, sustains and forgives us. That truth always presents itself to us like the merciful father in Jesus’ parable (cf. Lk 15:11-32).

TROUBADOUR

A winter copy of Troubadour is available at the back of the church, please feel free to take a copy

HAPPY CHRISTMAS

An image of the might and majesty of God that appeals to me, is that of a drill sergeant who created the stars and puts them in order in the skies. The stars are like his toys whom He plays with to create wonder in us. In the light of His great power the things that threaten us in our lives melt into insignificance. However, when God became man, Jesus experienced and understood the threat of illness, human cruelty and death that we have to deal with. The event of Christmas means that God is not a stranger to human life but One who is deeply involved with us. May this truth of our faith give you the understanding and joy that God is with us. This is the basis of our wishing “Happy Christmas” to each other.
